

United States Entity

Columbia River Treaty Review 2014/2024

US Army Corps of Engineers

Many dams and reservoirs in the Columbia River Basin operate together under the Columbia River Treaty to manage flood risks and generate hydropower to benefit the Pacific Northwest. These river operations also support fish and wildlife, recreation, water supply and navigation.

Please join the U.S. Entity Public Roundtable Discussions Draft Regional Recommendation on the future of the Treaty

- ❖ Understand this draft's evolution and changes since the earlier working draft
- ❖ Discuss what change could mean to the region
- ❖ Learn about the next steps in the Treaty Review process

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bonneville Power Administration, who form the U.S. Entity, will discuss these topics and answer questions during this informal roundtable meeting. These discussions will support your understanding of the Draft Regional Recommendation that now is available for public comment through October 25.

All participants are encouraged to share their opinions on the future of the Columbia River Treaty and learn more about the Draft Regional Recommendation. These sessions will feature open discussions, with no scheduled presentations.

Columbia River Treaty 2014/2024 Review

October 2013 Public Discussions

If unable to attend a session in person, join the Portland discussion by webinar/conference call.

Spokane

October 2
Wednesday
1-3 p.m.

Spokane Public Library –
Room 1A
906 W. Main Ave
[www.spokanelibrary.org/
index.php?page=downtown](http://www.spokanelibrary.org/index.php?page=downtown)

Boise

October 3
Thursday
1-3 p.m.

Boise Public Library
Marion Bigham Room
715 S Capitol Blvd
www.boisepubliclibrary.org/locations/main-library/

Helena

October 9
Wednesday
4:30-6:30 p.m.

Helena College at University of Montana
1115 N. Roberts St.
www.umhelena.edu/

Olympia

October 15
Tuesday
1-3 p.m.

The Olympia Center
222 Columbia Street NW
<http://olympiawa.gov/community/parks/the-olympia-center>
See front desk for free parking pass

Portland

October 16
Wednesday
2:30-5 p.m.

BPA Rates Hearing Room
1201 N.E. Lloyd Blvd., 2nd floor

or participate by Webinar
(watch the website for details)

For more information and background on Treaty Review, please visit www.crt2014-2024review.gov/OtherStudies.aspx for Columbia River Treaty Review background and overview fact sheets.

The U.S. Entity welcomes your comments and suggestions on the Draft Regional Recommendation by October 25. These comments and suggestions will be considered for incorporation into the final recommendation. Please send your comments to www.bpa.gov/comment or mail them to CRT Review (DKE) P.O. Box 14428, Portland, OR 97293.

For information on the Columbia River Treaty 2014/2024 Review

Visit www.crt2014-2024review.gov

Email treatyreview@bpa.gov

Call the Bonneville Power Administration at 800-622-4519

or the Corps at 503-808-4510

News media inquiries: Please call 503-230-4328